1	Private Comments Allows registered users to create private comments and replies to articles, which can be accessed by website managers and moderators. A small icon button is added next to both the parent comment and the reply comment submit button, allowing users to mark the comment as private after submission. The new "private" comment is only available for website managers, moderators, and the comment owner. It then automatically sends an email notification to the website manager and moderators when a new private comment is created. Optionally, the email's subject and body notification may be customized.	$379.95	0%	$379.95
1	Comment Notifications A notification system so users can receive updates and notifications specific to comments as they occur. The notification occurs as a notification bell on the website's front-end menu. Or as a second option, a web push notification is generated on screen as a bubble.	$63.95	0.00%	$63.95
